Stuph & Thangs

ECONOMY IN GOVMT ORT TO BE EASY...

MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mailing list is run on Friday for following week.

To say that the natives of the United States are restless is gross understatement. The situation more likely fits in with the title of Sunday's NBC Special concerning the Taxpayer Revolt, which was "Mad as Hell." While Congress is still debating the Pork Barrel Christmas Tree with the obvious feeling that the hula-baloos will soon die down, this appears to be wishful thinking which could very easily send large numbers of politicians back to work and give 'em the opportunity to live with and make an honest living under the laws they have enacted.

While California politicians and bureaucrats struggle with ways and means to operate with less money due to the effects of Proposition 13, we been thinkin' of a few ways in which the Federal Govt might cut some corners. Of course, there the numerous boondoggles sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

"Average U. S. Cattleman Is Damned Mad" Over Market Interference By Administration Despite Early Promises

Denver, June 12 — Richard A. McDougal, president of the National Cattlemen's Assn., has asked President Carter for a meeting to discuss future as well as recent government policies affecting the beef cattle industry.

The request was made in a letter following the President's recent announcement of a 200-million-pound increase in meat imports during the remainder of 1978.

"We respectfully request an audience with you to further explain to you why your most recent action was extremely ill-advised," McDougal told the president. "And we need some idea as to what we might expect from your administration in terms of policy toward the livestock industry."

"We are concerned not just with your action to increase imports now. We are very concerned about what this kind of action portends for the future. How can we make decisions which will affect beef supplies two or three years from now if we have no assurance that the government will not step in again and halt any improvement in returns to producers?"

McDougal cited U. S. Department of Agriculture analyses showing why government interference can hurt the public as well as cattlemen over the long run. He also reminded President Carter of statements he (Carter) made last February at a meeting with U. S. farm leaders. At that time, Carter told McDougal and others that the only viable method of improving the agricultural picture was through the free market system, and that he had no intention of interfering with the free market.

"Mr. President, you have betrayed us," McDougal said. "In spite of what Mr. Strauss (Robert Strauss, anti-inflation official) cattlemen friends may have told him, I can tell you that the average U. S. cattleman is damned mad. And, as they come to understand the long-term implications of this latest action affecting beef, consumers will be angry, too. (Strauss told news reporters June 8 that "two-thirds of his friends in the cattle industry" said the action would not have an adverse impact.)"

Pinzgauer Field Days July 19-22 Across The U.S.

At least 250 guests, including 70 from overseas, are expected to attend three International Pinzgauer Field Days across the United States July 19, 21 and 22, which follows the Fourth International Pinzgauer Congress in Calgary, Alta., Canada July 12 to 17, according to Kermit Gardner, East Point, Ga., president of American Pinzgauer Assn. The July 19 Field Day will be held at Wyoming Pinzgauer Ranch, Sheridan, according to Joe Fletcher, Chairman of the United States Tour. A preliminary part of this very educational field day will be a tour of Bob Mock's Farm, with time to examine all the percentages and purebreds of Pinzgauer cattle. There, before going to Lance Fletcher's to see the extensive work that Fletcher has done with on-farm testing of Pinzgauer cattle. Steers will be shown sorted into pens by sires. These steers will have just completed a 140-day feedlot test.

Jerry Dunn of Bradford, Arkansas displayed these Pinzgauer cattle at the ASU Pinzgauer Field Day held May 11 at the Beebe Branch. Part of the field day included a discussion on the advantages of Pinzgauer cattle and the advantages of crossbreeding.

A supervised test completed recently, proved Pinzgauer do extremely well on the feedlot. A group of 88 head finished with a 3.58-pound per day average gain with a feed conversion of 7.88 pounds feed for one pound gain, and an average feedlot cost of 86 cents per pound of gain, which includes all feedlot costs, not just feed costs.

Coleman Pinzgauer Farms of Bloomsdale, Mo., and Jerry Dunn of Bradford, Arkansas displayed Pinzgauer cattle at the Pinzgauer Field Day at Arkansas State University, Beebe Branch, May 11, 1978. The Field Day was held in conjunction with an ASU Beef Cattle Nutrition Seminar under the direction of Jimmy Joe Robinson.

Other U.S. Field Days will be at the USDA Meat Animal Research Center, Clay Center, Neb., on July 21, where a unique opportunity will be offered for Pinzgauer breeders to review the work being carried on at the research station using Pinzgauer cattle in cross breeding experiments, says Allan Larson, Stomach, Neb., chairman of this Field Day.

Dr. Larry V. Cundiff, geneticist research leader at the test center, will moderate a panel of animal scientists who will explain the various experimental projects in progress or completed using Pinzgauer cattle. They will also explain the goals of the Research Center and how they plan to use Pinzgauer in the future. Cattlemen will have an opportunity to ask questions about the cattle operations here and how results can be implemented at home.

Farm and Ranch Management Course Offered at Snyder

Snyder, Texas — Western Texas College has announced a Farm-Ranch Management Program with a two-year curriculum under the direction of Kent Mills. The program offers an Associate of Applied Science Degree upon completion.

The curriculum offers practical training in all areas of farm and ranch operation and management that combines progressive ideas with practical, in-proven methods. This "on the farm-ranch" training provides about 10 hours of lab work for each 2 hours of classroom lecture. Emphasis is on practical application of classroom lectures, rather than memorizing theories. Additional electives to the program include welding, technical math, and other vocational subjects that might be helpful to the farmer and rancher.

Complete information on the course and students in the program are available from W. Esters Texas College, Kent
Mills, Coordinator, Snyder, Texas
79549, 916/878-8611, Ext. 228.

Panhandle Directs

Amarillo, June 18, (F-S) — Slaughter steers 4.00-.50 lower, slaughter heifers fully 8.00 lower. Trade was slow over last weekend, fairly active on Monday at steady levels, but was slow and lower each day after that. The week's volume was again rather small, but area packers purchased large numbers in Kansas, Colorado and other outlying areas to be slaughtered in this area.
Some packers continued to kill cattle that had been purchased weighed up and placed back on feed several weeks ago. Practically all of the weighted up cattle have now been shipped. Although feedlots are showing an increase in number due to light sales volume, most cattle are still fairly short of time on feed with weight and overfat cattle no problem. Steers, 21,100; good and mostly choice, 70-85 percent choice, 2-3 1025-1125 lbs. late 55.00-56.00; 56.00-58.00 Tuesday and 56.00-57.25 Wednesday. Mixed good and choice 2-3 950-1150 lbs. ranged from 53.50-59.50, closing 53.50-55.00. Good and few choice 2-3 950-1100 lbs. 58.00-59.50.
Heifers, 15,000; good and mostly choice 2-3 875-975 lbs. 58.00-57.00, mostly 55.00 and down after late Wednesday.
Mixed good and choice 2-4 850-1000 lbs.
52.00-54.00, late 52.00-53.00. Good and choice 2-4 925-1025 lb. heifers 50.00-

1st All-Polled Sale Of Simmentals Set At Ft. Worth Show

The first all-polled purebred Simmental sale in the U. S. will be held Feb. 8, 1979 at the Fort Worth Southwestern Exposition & Fair
Stock Show.

John B. Collier IV, secretary of the sponsoring Texas Simmental Assn., said only the top 50 Polled purebred Simmentals nominated from across the country will be accepted for sale.

Important trait. A bull must have the structural balance and composition that will promote ease of calving and good characteristics. Grooms, believes strongly, demonstrate the fertility of an animal. Bulls at Alexander must be masculine and have well developed and normal sex organs.

Grooms evaluated the breeding program at Alexander as a very important step for the Simmental breed and the cattle industry as a whole. He echoes the opinion of the management here that the first concern of purebred producers must be the needs of the commercial industry.

Palo Pinto Simmentals
Average Strong $814
Fort Worth — Dick and Carol Carney's Palo Pinto Cattle Co. and guest consignor Dale West at Mineral Wells, held a highly successful Simmental event in their "Cattleman's Choice"
production sale here June 10, when 74 lots grossed $80,210 for an average of $814.

Alexander's breeding program emphasizes fertility and ease of calving.
They believe that traits necessary for practical commercial beef production are more important than performance alone.

Grooms stated that performance is important to commercial cattleman so a breeder has to keep that in mind, but in large cattle, such as Simmentals, bone
and muscle structure is an even more

If Ralco's Suppli-mix could save you 12 to 15% on your feed bills would you listen?

Like thousands of other cattlemen, Waldo Haythorn did:

"I've fed Suppli-mix for two years free choice to 6,000 head of cattle. We've cut our winter protein costs from $45,000 to $20,000. Also, I've been able to increase the cattle per section of pasture by 15%. To test Ralco Suppli-mix, I split herds, one on it, one not. The Ralco herd had calves 40 lbs. heavier at 8 months, and the cows and heifers were much healthier."

- Non-toxic, safe at any reasonable level.
- Not a drug so no FDA restrictions apply. No forms, no withdrawal.

COSTS AS LITTLE AS 3¢ PER DAY OR 90¢ PER MONTH!

Here's how Suppli-mix works:

Unlike conventional feed additives, Ralco Suppli-mix has the ability to make essential amino acids more available than they would ordinarily be. In addition, Suppli-mix contains highly soluble cobalt, which is readily converted to vitamin B<sub>12</sub> in the rumen. It's a fact that in order for propionic acid (the most efficient of the three volatile fatty acids) to be absorbed and utilized, vitamin B<sub>12</sub> must be present. Ralco's special form of cobalt insured B<sub>12</sub> is always there. The combined results are showing a 12 to 15% increase in feed efficiency on literally thousands of cattle in feed lots and pasturing situations.

once Foundation, like the one where a young lady is enjoying a two-year sabbatical in Africa to study how much the young male gorillas hang out around the young females of the other bands and while these capers might be interesting, we can't figure out why our tax dollars should finance her observations.

Another place to start savin' Big Money might be to blow the whistle on the Federal Trade Commission's efforts to control the V commercial during the kid show periods. Somebody figured out that young ones spend more time in front of the T&V than they do in school, which may account for their inability to read, write and figure, but we have a hard time figuring out what business it is of the U.S. Govt. what happens in the homes of the natives and of the Pama buy sugary confections or cereals. Of course, if parents don't want their kids to eat sugary stuff all they have to do is say NO! If a temper tantrum starts they can always apply the hand-to-mouth rule, the kid's seat of learning until he discovers who is running the show.

Another place we might save a grand total of $26 million dollars would be to head off USDA's Carol Tucker Foreman's notion that we opt to blow that match down on a program under which States "will provide children, teachers and school food service personnel with training on the important relationship between nutrition, good food and health. This training will help them become better informed, more knowledgeable consumers," Miss Foreman points out. The program would be based on a rate of 60¢ (four bits) for each kid enrolled in a school or institution.

Under this program California would get $2,432,342; New York would collect $2,085,754 and Texas would garner $1,499,482 as the top three in on this scheme. So now the kids, school teachers & school food specialists would presumably all know what to feed the young ones and with the T&V telling 'em what kids can watch on T&V, we can all relax and let the Govt. baby-bitaround the clock.

This list of stuph is endless and since we California's H&W admits they lose $9 or $7 billion through holes in their administration, it does appear the Natives have a right not only to be resilient but also, as NBO decided, Mad as Hell. Ever thine,
The Editor.

P. S.: Uncle Dunk notes where there's a Big Controversy over the Turkey Folks calling these "turkey" meat Turkey Ham and the H&W folks don't like it one bit. Dunk remembers one time when the late Clint Walker's Red Worthy, companion and an avid bowler of lunch, had Swift & Co. send some lunch to him and you had to be a gourmet to eat it. Dunk says now you can expect the Big Showers in Govt. at all levels. So blame cutbacks in Park Barre Projects of the infamous Proposition 13 Syndrome in the State Senate in which the fact that the State is in a deficit is the only thing that is not in the State's favor. ## The Circle Seven Commercial Brangus Bull.

Why do you think so many cowmen have been buying him?
Like all other types of businessmen, it is necessary that a cowman make daily decisions affecting his operation. He must project his needs for the future and select the methods of management that will keep him in the black. A good cowman plans and chooses carefully. He knows the importance of getting a return on every investment he makes. He can't take chances; not on the nutrition of his cattle, and not on his bull.
Circle Seven takes out the guess work involved with buying commercial bulls. Each and every bull produced

Cattlemen Damned Mad

"With proper economic incentive, U. S. cattlemen are quite capable of supplying the consumer with an adequate supply of beef at reasonable prices in relation to incomes. But we will not be able to do this if you choose to erode our market with unreasonable actions on imports and with a continuation of irresponsible bureaucratic regulations. The U. S. consuming public will best be served by a healthy domestic food industry, unencumbered by excessive government meddling."
Following is the text of McDougall's letter to President Jimmy Carter.
The Honorable Jimmy Carter
The President of the United States
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:
Your recent decision to provide access for an additional 200 million pounds of imported beef under the illusion of moderating consumer prices was, to the U. S. cattle industry, an extremely discouraging blow.
I assume you were briefed on the economic status of our industry. You are aware, then, that for more than four years we have been in an extremely deep depression. Only recently have cattlemen begun to realize or see prospects for a profit. Actually, most cattlemen have not yet experienced the recently improved prices for their beef that they marketed their 1978 crop of cattle.

Assuming you were briefed on the situation, I can only conclude that you chose to ignore the recommendations of impartial analysts as well as those of cattlemen. I refer you to a May, 1978, publication, "Beef: Meat Prices in Perspective," written by James E. Nix, livestock economist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
The publication said: "Just when (beef) prices are beginning to signal producers to start rebuilding their herds, proposals are being put forth to increase further price increases. Any such governmental actions should be carefully examined for their potential in stimulating continued herd sell-offs. Because, if herd reduction does not stop soon, the annual per capita consumption of beef during one of the next three years could drop below the lowest level of the past decade. Since consumers have demonstrated strong preferences for beef, anything that further reduces supplies will exert even more upward pressure on beef prices and total food costs."

Mr. President, I also vividly recall statements which you made at a White House meeting on February 14, 1978, with representatives of all of U. S. agriculture. You stated that:
1. The only truly viable method of improving the agricultural economic picture was through the free market system.
2. Further government involvement would not cure any of the ills of the marketplace.
3. Demand was strengthening by virtue of the continuing population increase.
4. You were confident that renewed prosperity for farmers and ranchers was coming soon because of the basic supply and demand factors.

You had no intention of interfering with the free market system.
Now, for the first time since 1973, cattlemen's revenues hold promise of exceeding our escalating costs for an extended period. But you have chosen to do the very thing which, in February, you said was wrong. You have chosen to interfere with the free market system.
We recognize that beef prices have risen rapidly recently, and understandably the U. S. public is spending less on beef than it has in the past. Yet you have chosen to step in in the face of a rising price of beef, a price which is a result of a rising price of beef.
Mr. President, you have betrayed us. In spite of what Mr. Strauss' cattlemen friends may have told him, I can tell you that the average U. S. cattleman is damned mad. And as they come to understand the long-term implications of this latest action affecting beef, consumers will be angry, too.
The excessive government interference and regulations which your administration is imposing or seeking to impose on this country's food system threaten the most productive part of the U. S. economy. And the bottom line, over the longer term, will be higher and higher food prices for consumers, with no increase in returns to already hard-pressed agriculture.

We are concerned not just with your action to increase imports. We are very concerned about what this kind of action portends for the future, in terms of interference with the free market system. How can we make decisions which will affect beef supplies two or three years from now if we have no assurance that the government will not step in again and halt any improvement in returns to producers?
I respectfully request an audience with you to further explain to you why your most recent action was extremely ill-advised. And we need some idea as to what we might expect from your administration in terms of policy toward the livestock industry.
With proper economic incentive, U. S. cattlemen are quite capable of supplying the consumer with an adequate supply of beef at reasonable prices in relation to income. But we will not be able to do this if you choose to erode our market with unreasonable actions on imports and with a continuation of irresponsible bureaucratic regulations. The U. S. consuming public will best be served by a healthy domestic food industry, unencumbered by excessive government meddling.
I await your early reply, and I anticipate an opportunity to personally expand upon our deep concerns.
Sincerely,
Richard A. McDougall
President
